Fatiha Senhaji

Vice President, Inclusive Entrepreneurship

Business Development Bank of Canada (BDC)

Fatiha joined BDC in June 2023 as Vice President, Inclusive Entrepreneurship and leads the bank's National strategy to meet the needs of all Canadian underserved and diverse clients. Supported by a team of DEI+A regional managers across Canada, she helps drive our Inclusive Entrepreneurship strategy by working with multiple internal and external partners to strengthen support and learning for diverse entrepreneurs and deepen our understanding of the economical and societal barriers they face as underserved communities.

Fatiha has always been passionate about entrepreneurship and helping companies succeed in business. She brings over two decades of excellence in the banking industry having most recently worked as National Director, Industry and Zero Barriers to Business Programs at BMO Financial Group, and previously as Vice President, Treasury and Payment Solutions, as well as Vice President, Business Banking and Bank Manager, all at BMO.

She is also an alumnus of BDC having worked with our organization for three years as Senior Business Development Manager, and we are delighted she has returned to our organization to help us with our objective of connecting and working with more entrepreneurs from diverse background and perspectives.

Fatiha is an ambassador for Inclusive Entrepreneurship with emphasis on inclusive leadership and the advancement of women in the workplace. Her dynamic and passionate approach is already an inspiration and motivation to her colleagues across the country.

Here's how to connect with her.
